

April

"Pink Moon" is APRIL'S full Moon visible night of 7th/8th
Named after wild flowers.

The name was used by the Algonquin tribe, as well as by colonial Americans.

So every year, it's the Full Pink Moon.

Some other April dates:

- 1 April Fools' Day Little is known about the origins of this tradition but setting a day aside for harmless pranks on other people has been common throughout the world. Bet we've all got some memories of good ones!
- 5 Holy Week beginning with Palm Sunday commemorating Jesus' entry into Jerusalem when palms were laid in his path
- 9 Maundy Thursday commemorating the Foot Washing and the Last Supper. The Queen gives out silver coins (Maundy money) to elderly people. Usually, but not this year.

- 10 Commemorating the crucifixion. Hot cross buns.

Pace Egg plays like medieval mystery plays still happen in Lancs/Yorks, but not this year.

April

- 12 Easter Sunday Commemorating the resurrection after 3 days.

The most important day of the year for some people

- 13 Easter Monday Easter traditions include egg dying, painting and rolling.

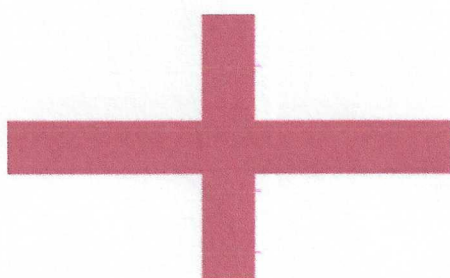

We'll remember being one of the Lancaster schoolchildren flocking to Giant Axe Field to roll our precious haul of painted hard-boiled eggs.

Much more commercialized nowadays with chocolate eggs!

- 23 St George's Day St George was adopted in England because the dragon-slaying legend was similar to an Anglo-Saxon legend.

Born in Cappadocia, part of modern day Turkey, he was executed on 23 April 303 for refusing to give up Christianity.

The St. George's flag, a red cross on a white field, was adopted by England and the City of London in 1190 for their ships entering the Mediterranean to benefit from the protection of the Genoese fleet.

Nearly 200 years later Edward III made St George the patron saint of England. He's also the patron saint of Aragon, Catalonia, Ethiopia, Greece, Lithuania, Palestine, Portugal, Russia and Georgia with is named after him. And his day is celebrated widely in the Middle East.

Tradition has it that Jerusalem is sung in cathedrals, churches and chapels on the Sunday near St George's Day.

NB Jerusalem is the WI's anthem.

- 23 William Shakespeare is celebrated. He died on 23 April in 1616

All in all a very different April this year!
